

Learning Expedition Reflection

(can be done in place of or in addition to the zoo trip)

In first grade, we will go on many learning expeditions that will take us to museums, nature centers, history centers, and the zoo. As we go on the expeditions, we will carry a travel journal to record our reflections.

Your task is to take your own expeditionary trip this summer. It can be to a museum, an aquarium, the zoo, or even to the library, the park, or the beach! As you travel on this expedition, take this paper with you to record your reflections on the back. You can write down your noticings, important words you see, questions you have, or draw a picture of something you saw. Be as creative as you want to be. Have fun exploring the world around you!

My expeditionary learning will be at

---

My expeditionary learning reflection